The Embroiderers' Guild of America, Inc.

LAST DATE for SIGN-UP DECEMBER 15, 2015

The first time we held Camp Wannastitch at the Clarion only a handful of people attended. Look at us now, the secret is out! This fabulous retreat has grown by leaps and bounds and this year we'll have over 164 people! That is just amazing!

Each year I arrive in Ocean City with such excitement in anticipation of seeing so many "old" friends and the beauty of meeting new ones too, and I've come to realize the "old" friends group has grown and grown. The Mid-Atlantic Region is full of interesting and talented people and this retreat affords us the opportunity to get to know our fellow EGA members better. The atmosphere encourages us to walk around and see all the beautiful pieces that are currently in work.

If you feel a need to take a break from stitching, there is always shopping. Having two great stitching shops, Salty Yarns and Sea Needles, close by makes it so easy to stock up on all the essentials. OK, we all know that everything we buy is considered essential, right?

The registration fee is only $10. Please don't hesitate because the remaining seats are limited.

Don't forget, even though the retreat officially runs from January 15 – 18, the stitching room will be available for our use starting at 4pm Thursday, January 14th!! I'll be there because I can't wait to see everyone!

Region Director's Message

Hello MAR members!

What a whirlwind fall it was! We had such a lovely weekend in Wilmington, Delaware in October. The weather was frightful, but Amee Sweet McNamara was delightful. We all enjoyed learning this new Soutache beading technique, and I think we all came away with a finished pin. No UFOs here! That in itself is quite a statement.

Well, as you read this, Early Registration for Star Spangled Seminar 2016 is closed, and you will be anxiously awaiting the email with your class confirmation. I hope you all registered! It will be such a great time for the Region as a whole. I also hope that when the call goes out for volunteers, you will be the first in line. It takes a village to run a successful seminar. Please be a Doo-Bee!

I came home recently from a week of meetings and then classes at the national Seminar 2015 in San Antonio, and watched all week as volunteers manned the registration tables, the banquet set ups, the boutique, and the education exhibits. They were vital to the event, and each one only had to do a short stint to make a big difference.

Now, is there a hidden Mary Corbet in you? But, like, you know, without that entire full-time commitment thing? You are in luck! The National EGA website is planning a new feature; a member-driven Blog! They are looking for writers to volunteer to contribute a small entry, just once a month or so, about whatever your stitching heart desires. Been to a cool museum? Attended a great lecture? Saw a beautiful piece on Pinterest? Have a grievance about needlework to air? Contact marketing@egausa.org and let them know you'd love to help.

As this holiday season approaches, I want to extend my best wishes to each of you, and my thanks for being such a great supporter of the guild. You are truly a gift. Remember, WE are the EGA!

In Stitches,

Patty

THaP = Take Home a Project March 19, 2016—9:00am—11:30am

Romanian Point Lace Holiday Wreath

THaP 2016 is a Romanian Point Lace Holiday Wreath. This class will be taught by on March 19, 2016 at the spring region meeting.

The main purpose of Take Home a Program (THaP) is to provide programs and projects for chapters. If a chapter is interested in the program, they will send a member to take the class who will then return and present the program to the chapter at a future date. It also provides an opportunity for new teachers to teach beyond their own chapter.

The project is a small wreath using 3 or 4 needle lace stitches of your choice with bead embellishment. Cording, thread, and beads will be provided in the kit. The instructions will include directions for the crochet cording used in Romanian Point Lace. (Crocheting the cording would take too much class time so it will be provided.) All levels may take this class.

The kit fee is $10 and it is paid by the chapter. The deadline for registration is February 1, 2016. One person per chapter may take this class and then teach it to their chapter at a future date. If the class is not filled by the sign up deadline, other MAR members (which includes new members) may sign up by February 15, 2016.

Kit includes: Instructions, picture, cording, muslin backing fabric, threads, beads, needles (2 different sizes) & doodle project. Student brings: Scissors, thimble (if used), light & magnifier are optional.

Treasurer's Report

Hello Chapter Treasurers,

Again this coming year, MAR will suspend region dues for the year of 2016 from members. No one will pay Mid-Atlantic Region dues in 2016!

Secretary's Report

As the days left in 2015 wind down, and the New Year approaches, some chapters will have officer changes. Just a reminder to send updates to the secretary, Regional Director and to National. The form is on our website if you do not have a paper copy.

Also please send any officers information changes to me as soon as known so I can update the data base. It is so much easier when emails go to contacts on the first send.

As I look forward to winter and the holidays that are a part of this time of the year, I want to wish all members joy filled days.

Group Correspondence Courses

The Spring 2016 GCC, selected by the MAR Board of Directors, will be White Iris, designed and taught by Mona Hill.

In the garden, gorgeous irises burst into bloom amid smaller flowers heralding the warm days of early summer. White Iris is stitched using white or cream Pearl Cotton on matching 32-count Belfast linen. The mat chosen for behind and around the piece adds the punch of color.

Combining stunning June flowers, White Iris is a sampler of eleven pulled thread patterns worked inside surface embroidery of flowers petal edges. The surface embroidery emphasizes shaping the buttonhole stitch and the chain stitch to form leaves and petal edges. Chain stitch, outline stitch and satin stitch variations are used for flower stems. Some knowledge of compensation is essential in working the pulled thread patterns.

This beautiful composition, done in surface embroidery enclosing areas filled with pulled thread patterns, has a spectacular lace-like quality.

Size: 9" x 9" design on 15"x15" ground fabric
Fabric: 32-count Belfast linen
Threads: Pearl cotton #8 and #12
Colors: White or cream
Skill Level: Intermediate
Prerequisites: Knowledge of compensation and the ability to work stitches from diagrams
Time: 5 meetings plus preliminary and wrap-up meetings (approx. 6 months)
Fee: $175 per group
Text: $48 per student plus $5 for postage
Supplies: $19.00 (approximate)

The texts for the Fall 2015 GCC, Star-Spangled Puzzle Ball, designed and taught by Denise Harrington Pratt, are currently en route to the registrants. This course will run from November 15, 2015 to May 15, 2016. The class filled up quickly for this popular offering.

The Spring 2015 GCC, Bargello Challenge, designed and taught by Gail Stafford, has been completed and evaluated. An amazing potpourri of beautiful and imaginative designs were stitched!

The MAR crewel wool sale is over. MAR was given skeins of crewel wool from a closed needlework shop. We have been selling it for 2 years. In addition chapters had the opportunity to receive free of charge the wool needed to complete the Petite Project, "Colonial American Embroidery." Five chapters took advantage of that offer. MAR made $291 from this sale.

MAR BANNER!

The MAR Banner made an appearance at the October 3, 2015 MAR Meeting. There are only 13 more squares to be filled. It is currently in the possession of the Brandywine Chapter. Washington D.C. Chapter will have it next. It should be at Camp Wannastitch for everyone to see.

Our region director has graciously offered to mount it.

We are planning on unveiling it at the MAR sponsored National Seminar in 2016 in Alexandria, VA.

It is permissible for a chapter or individual to honor a departed member. In the recording book sign: "In memory of_____".

MAR History—Request

I have received a few more chapter histories, but I still need a history from most chapters. You know who you are. Why not make it a New Year's resolution to put a history together for your chapter!

My resolution is to have chapter packets of material that does belong with MAR History for individual chapters.

SMART DAY 2017

The region will not have a SMART Day in the fall of 2016, as we hope many of you will take advantage of the chance to go to the national seminar right here in the region. However we need to know what our members would like to do for 2017.

We'll discuss this at the March meeting and it is much better if we have examples to show for those not familiar with a specific person or technique.

Do you want to become another "Mary Corbet"? Here's How!! EGA is Calling All Writers

Susquehanna Chapter's Outreach Project for Domestic Violence

A Redwork Quilt

The Susquehanna Chapter has been involved with Domestic Violence Cumberland/Perry County Chapter since 1995.

To support Domestic Violence Susquehanna members have donated many needlework pieces. One of our projects was to "Adopt a Towel". Each member would then embroider her towel and fill it with toiletries collected by the members. These sets would be given to a domestic abuse victim when they arrived at the shelter. The towel sets were also used as gifts that the children could give their mom for a holiday, such as Mother's Day and Birthdays. Included with the towels was a note saying "Our thoughts are with you on this, the first day of your new life".

Other projects included needlework pieces that we had framed and Christmas ornaments.

This year our president came up with the idea of stitching the redwork squares which she had found in her stash. The idea quickly turned into a quilt project which would be donated for the Domestic Violence Holiday Auction held in November!

Besides providing the squares, our president donated the fabric needed to finish the quilt. She also arranged a Quilting Bee day to complete the quilt.

International Embroidery Conference Report

I was feeling lucky one day in late December last year, so I sent in a coupon to win one of two scholarships offered by the Mid-Atlantic Region of EGA to attend the Sixth International Embroidery Conference in Williamsburg, Virginia.

I was feeling wretched one day in March (doctor stuff), when I answered the phone to find our Region Director on the line. Her call made me feel a lot better: I had won one of the scholarships!

May 14 found me on the road to Williamsburg, where I spent three days absorbing a world of embroidery, as reflected in the conference theme, "Threads Through Time." It was a time to listen and learn, not to stitch.

The speakers were highly experienced and highly knowledgeable in a range of embroidery and fiber traditions, including East Asian Silk Embroidery, the beautiful woven Rebozos of Mexico, the samplers of Williamsburg, traditional lace-making techniques of France, embroidery as an art form, and Ecclesiastical embroidery. The speakers represented such well-known U.S. institutions as the Metropolitan Museum of Art, The Textile Museum, and the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, as well as an embroidery museum and textile study center housed in Korea, the Chung Young Yang Embroidery Museum. Other speakers pursue their textile research and artistry in the university context, including the University of Texas at San Antonio and Elon University.

We all enjoyed a special tour of the Williamsburg Collection at the Dewitt Wallace Museum of Decorative Arts, which cries out for a return visit.

The conference also gave me an opportunity to meet many of our National and Regional officers and staff, as well as spend some very enjoyable time with some of our own chapter members as well as those from other chapters.

My advice to all of you: when next you see a coupon for a scholarship offered by MAR, jump on the chance to win. You may be as lucky as I am.
